MILLIONS OF PORRIES.

Largest Kind of Schools Off Here Yesterday.

Were Schooling Way Up in the Outer Harbor.

Incoming vessels say they never saw so many porgies as there were off this port yesterday and through the night. The water in Boston bay was fairly alive with them, and they were solid down off Thatcher's island. Even in the harbor there were big schools and the red rafts could be seen up off Ten Pound island. Capt. Lemuel Crowell of sch. Agnes, which came in during the night, reports that off Thatcher's island about ten miles and outside of the schools of porgies, he saw some nice schools of mackerel. He saw two porgie steamers loaded decks to the water, complete their fares and steam to the eastward.

Mackerel Notes.

One of the best of the recent mackerel trips was that brought to T wharf, Boston, yesterday afternoon by sch. Natalie J. Nelson, Capt. Joshua W. Stanley, of this port. The craft took out 19,000 fresh mackerel there and came to this port with 103 barrels of salt mackerel, which went on the market this morning. The fresh mackerel sold for 12 1/2 cents each and the Nelson will make a fine stock. Capt. Stanley is showing that he is an all around fisherman of the first class and can catch mackerel as well as haddock and cod.

The salt fare of sch. Norumbega, 150 barrels which craft came down from Boston after landing 14,000 fresh mackerel in Boston, was sold to the Gloucester Mackerel Company at the market price. Capt. McKinnon and his crew will fare well off their big trip, which was taken on Georges out in the fog. The Norumbega is well up near the head of the procession.

The new sch. Kernwood, Capt. Herbert Thompson, is at Boston from her maiden trip today, with a nice fare, 6000 fresh mackerel. She has only been out a few days and has made a good start.

The seiners recently arriving report getting their fares on Georges 125 miles southeast by east from Highland light.

MAKING GOOD MONEY.

What Some of the Vessels Have Done Lately.

Good Stocks and Shares of Several Fine Crafts.

Sch. Smuggler, Capt. Jerry Cook, stocked $2200 on her recent seining trip, the crew sharing $45.

Sch. Pinta, Capt. John F. Vautier, stocked $2550 on her recent seining trip, the crew sharing $52.45.

Sch. Kentucky, Capt. Elroy Prior, stocked $3086 on her recent seining trip, the crew sharing $84.

Sch. Marguerite Haskins, Capt. Ralph Webber, stocked $3454.88 on her recent seining trip, the crew sharing $80.61.

Sch. Mary E. Harty, Capt. Charles H. Harty, stocked $1300 on her fresh mackerel fare landed at Boston yesterday.

Sch. Colonial, Capt. Henry Larkin, stocked $2230.90 on her recent shacking trip, the crew sharing $69.56.

Sch. Theodore Roosevelt, Capt. James W. McHenry, stocked $4007 on her recent halibut ing trip, the crew sharing $110.

Sch. Niagara, Capt. Augustus Swinson, stocked $1750 on her recent Georges halibut ing trip, the crew sharing $47.

BIG MACKEREL FARE.

Sch. Natalie J. Nelson Is at Boston This Afternoon.

Has 18,000 Fresh and 100 Barrels Salt Mackerel.

Sch. Natalie J. Nelson, Capt. Joshua W. Stanley, arrived at Boston this afternoon with a big fare from Georges, 18,000 fresh mackerel in count and 100 barrels of salt mackerel.

BIG MACKEREL FARE.

Sch. Faustina Arrived from Georges This Afternoon.

Has 310 Barrels Salt and 150 Barrels Fresh Fish.

The best Georges mackerel trip of the season and one of the best fares of the season arrived this noon, when sch. Faustina, Capt. Augustus G. Hall, came in from Georges with 310 barrels of salt mackerel and 150 barrels of fresh mackerel. As above stated, Capt. Hall got his fine fare on Georges, most of the trip being taken recently. The vessel shot into Fort wharf and will sell her fresh mackerel, as well as her salt fish at this port.

MORE GOOD STOCKS.

Prosperity Sets Its Mark on Several More Vessels.

In addition to the list of fine stocks which the TIMES printed yesterday, here are some more which were figured up this morning and are in the same high class with yesterday's list.

Sch. Norumbega, Capt. John McKinnon, stocked $3477 on her recent seining trip, the crew sharing $83.47.

Sch. Lella E. Norwood, Capt. Alfred Johnson, stocked $2273 on her recent 12 days Georges halibuting trip, the crew sharing $65.11.

FULL FARE OF MACKEREL.

Sch. Bertha and Pearl Arrived at Boston Today.

CAPT. SMITH NOW HIGH LINE.

Sch. Corsair Is Also There with a Fine Trip.

That wonderfully successful veteran mackerel catcher, Capt. Joseph Smith of sch. Bertha and Pearl, arrived at Boston this morning with a fare which will put him in the honorable position of high line of the seining fleet. He has 275 barrels of salt mackerel and 15,000 fresh mackerel in count, the fare being taken recently on Georges.

There is something inspiring in the work of this man, who though the oldest skipper of the seining fleet, goes along year after year making big trips and stocks which put him always near the head of the column. Of an age when many men in shore life would have retired from active business, this sturdy, active man goes at his arduous calling with the snap and vigor of a man of 45 and likes it. He holds an honorable position in the ranks of Gloucester's skippers and his success is pleasing to his host of friends both afloat and ashore.

Sch. Corsair, Capt. George Hamor, is also at Boston this morning with a dandy fare of 185 barrels of salt mackerel and 8000 fresh mackerel.

The fare of fresh mackerel of sch. Faustina sold to John Nagle & Co., at 10 cents each.

The fare of sch. Vera sold to George Perkins & Son at $12.75 per barrel.

The new sch. Kernwood, which was at Boston yesterday from her maiden trip, had 13,000 fresh mackerel instead of 5000 as previously reported.

Sch. F. W. Homans was at Port Hawkesbury, C. B., recently and shipped home some barrels of salt mackerel. Capt. Greenleaf reported fishing fairly good.

A good shoal of mackerel was reported from Tracadie, as off that side of Prince Edward Island on July 12 and that some of the boats had been doing well.

Reports from Tignish, P. E. I., state that mackerel are being taken on the hook off here.

The new sch. Kernwood, Capt. Herbert Thompson, stocked $1880 on her recent fresh mackerel trip.

SALT BANK TRIP.

Sch. Argo Arrived This Afternoon from Grand Bank.

Sch. Argo, Capt. Patrick Shea, arrived from Grand Bank this afternoon with a fare of 175,000 pounds of salt cod. He reports seeing no bankers for some time and says there are no squid on the bank.

FOUND SQUID PLENTY.

Sch. Latona Reports Them in Schools off No Man's Land Recently.

Capt. Solomon Butler of sch. Latona, which arrived this morning with a fare of mackerel, reports a large body of squid off No Man's Land recently.

BIG FREEZING PLANT.

Frank Stanwood to Have One at His Wharf.

Old Brewery Remodelled and Fitted with Latest Appliances.

One of the most notable additions to the fish business plants of the city is the big freezer and refrigerator now nearing completion at the wharf of Frank Stanwood at the Fort. Some time ago Mr. Stanwood purchased of the Tarrs, the large building, known as the brewery building and at once began to carry out his plan of making it over and installing therein an up-to-date freezing and refrigerating apparatus. The work has been steadily progressing so that in the fall, by herring time it is expected that it will be in full operation.

In order to properly fit the structure for the purpose for which it was intended to utilize it, many alterations and much work was necessary. Triple windows, hermetically sealed and air tight were placed at every window opening, so that no cold air could escape and no warm air gain entrance. Then additional walls were built all about and inside the present walls and two feet from them. This space was partially filled with a substance resembling sawdust, and part left for air space. Both the outside and inside walls were covered carefully with Bird's famous Kosat paper.

The building is three stories in height and this plan was followed throughout on every story. As it stands the building will store 3000 barrels of frozen fish. The top floor will be used for taking in the fish to be frozen and stored. From thence it will be sent through shutters to the freezing room on the floor below, which is all fitted with racks and shelves to do the necessary work. After being frozen the fish will be put into the storage room, fitted with bins, on the lower floor. In case more capacity is needed, the freezing room can be transferred to the upper floor and thus both lower floors can be used for storage, so increasing the storage capacity of the plant very much.

Alongside the freezer and with a ground entrance on Fort square, is the boiler and engine room, (the latter below), a new structure, in which has been installed a new and improved Cunningham boiler. Partly inside and partly outside of the upper room is the machinery necessary to run the plant and freeze and refrigerate the goods. All the machinery is of the latest improved pattern for freezing by the ammonia process and among other things, comprises a large three stack condenser and an absorber.

On the harbor side a small extension has been made for the convenience of taking in the fish to be frozen and stored and handle them quickly. Everything has been laid out and arranged in the most careful manner and when finished the plant will be one of the most complete and modern on the coast. It is Mr. Stanwood's intention to make a specialty of freezing and storing herring to be used as bait and to some extent to preserve out of season fish for the opposite season's market. The building has been so arranged that goods can be delivered either at the wharf or to teams on Fort Square.

The enterprise is an expensive one to undertake, but with the demand there is for bait at different seasons and the opportunity for freezing food fish as well as storing fish or other articles, it is believed that the establishment will prove a financial success as well as filling a long felt want here at this port.
